

Calscape - the website of the California Native Plant Society

May we draw your attention to the newly revamped Calscape website. Calscape | California's Native Plant Gardening Destination. As well as being beautifully presented and illustrated it is a resource for information on species recommendations, plant identification, nurseries, landscapers and much more. Commended and recommended.